Vote Prop. 38, YES, to give our children a future!

OUR KIDS. OUR MONEY. THEIR FUTURE.

Written with the help of parental rights experts, it is the best pro-family measure since Prop. 22, the Protection of Marriage Initiative.

Gives Our Kids a Chance to Graduate.

Our kids have the right to graduate from high school. With Prop. 38, yes to savings, they'll have the chance to get their high school diploma. Our current education system fails to prepare children for their future. With Prop. 38, yes to savings, they'll have the chance to get a high school diploma.

Prop. 38 ensures reasonable accountability. Parents of voucher students will be given annual financial statements and their children will take annual academic basic skills tests. Parents and grandparents will have the right to give their children a future. Their future. Our future.

Prop. 38 protects religious freedom. It does not allow the government to dictate religious education. Our children have the right to attend religious schools. The government should not dictate what they learn.

Conservative legislators who believe in parental rights. That's what makes Prop. 38 different.

Parents and grandparents have the right to give our children a future.

Put parents in charge.

Prop. 38 puts parents in charge. They'll be able to send their children to private or religious schools. They'll be able to send them to a private or religious school. They'll be able to send them to a private or religious school. They'll be able to send them to a private or religious school.

Prop. 38 protects the beliefs of private schools and home schools, while ensuring reasonable accountability. It allows private schools and home schools to teach faith-based education. It allows private schools and home schools to teach faith-based education.

Prop. 38 puts a stop to government involvement in religious schools. It does not allow the government to dictate religious education. It does not allow the government to dictate religious education.

Prop. 38 restricts the ability of the State Legislature to impose future regulations. On Election Day, you have the power to protect religious freedom and save children from the broken government school system that turns its back on parents.

Prop. 38 puts a stop to government involvement in religious schools. It does not allow the government to dictate religious education. It does not allow the government to dictate religious education.

Prop. 38 allows children to leave bad schools and access private education. You have the power to give your children a future.

Parents and grandparents have the right to give our children a future.

Prop. 38 puts parents in charge. They'll be able to send their children to private or religious schools. They'll be able to send them to a private or religious school. They'll be able to send them to a private or religious school. They'll be able to send them to a private or religious school.

Prop. 38 protects religious freedom. It does not allow the government to dictate religious education. Our children have the right to attend religious schools. The government should not dictate what they learn.

Conservative legislators who believe in parental rights. That's what makes Prop. 38 different.

Parents and grandparents have the right to give our children a future.

Put parents in charge.

Prop. 38 puts parents in charge. They'll be able to send their children to private or religious schools. They'll be able to send them to a private or religious school. They'll be able to send them to a private or religious school. They'll be able to send them to a private or religious school.

Prop. 38 protects the beliefs of private schools and home schools, while ensuring reasonable accountability. It allows private schools and home schools to teach faith-based education. It allows private schools and home schools to teach faith-based education.

Prop. 38 restricts the ability of the State Legislature to impose future regulations. On Election Day, you have the power to protect religious freedom and save children from the broken government school system that turns its back on parents.

Prop. 38 puts a stop to government involvement in religious schools. It does not allow the government to dictate religious education. It does not allow the government to dictate religious education.

Prop. 38 allows children to leave bad schools and access private education. You have the power to give your children a future.

Parents and grandparents have the right to give our children a future.

Put parents in charge.

Prop. 38 puts parents in charge. They'll be able to send their children to private or religious schools. They'll be able to send them to a private or religious school. They'll be able to send them to a private or religious school. They'll be able to send them to a private or religious school.

Prop. 38 protects religious freedom. It does not allow the government to dictate religious education. Our children have the right to attend religious schools. The government should not dictate what they learn.

Conservative legislators who believe in parental rights. That's what makes Prop. 38 different.

Parents and grandparents have the right to give our children a future.