Darren Parker - It’s time for new leaders in Sacramento

A Fighter, not a Runner

Hundreds of thousands of tax-payer dollars are being wasted on this special election because George Runner abandoned his Senate seat to run for a higher paying political office. Now his wife Sharon wants to continue the political dynasty and use the seat as her own springboard. Darren Parker is running for Senate because working families in our district need someone fighting for them in Sacramento, and he has pledged to proudly serve his entire term.

Jobs, Jobs and Jobs

Darren knows that we must invest in clean energy technology and green jobs. The potential for new jobs is as abundant as the wind and sunshine around us and Darren is the leader who will bring the high paying jobs of the future to our district. As a small business owner, Darren also understands government too often gets in the way and he will cut through the red tape and put our district back to work.

Educate our way to a better economy

California schools rank 46th in the nation in per pupil spending. If we are serious about turning our economy around, we need representatives who are serious about preparing our students for the jobs of tomorrow. Of his four children, Darren has three children remaining in our public schools and knows firsthand that parents, teachers, and our elected officials must work together to ensure our students are getting the education they need to succeed.

Darren Parker’s Promise to You

I’m not a career politician surrounded by political consultants and pollsters, so please excuse my bluntness; our government isn’t working for us. As a 25 year resident of our district, I’ve grown tired of our elected officials going to Sacramento and being more concerned with their next election than growing opportunity and the economy in our district.

Creating jobs and growing our economy needs to be our top priority. This requires investment in areas vital to economic growth like education, upgrading infrastructure, research and technology, and a real plan to manufacture here in California again.

Darren says, if you honor me with your vote, my promise to you is:

1. I will NOT vote to raise taxes without voter approval
2. I will proudly serve my entire term in office
3. I will empower our small businesses and recruit job creating companies to our area
4. I will work every day to make sure our kids are attending schools we can be proud of
5. I will never forget that I work for YOU!
